```java
package com.itbulls.learnit.javacore.controlstatements.hw;

import java.util.Scanner;

public class UserActivitySelector {

    public static void main(String[] args) {
        System.out.print("Please, enter action name: ");
        Scanner sc = new Scanner(System.in);
        String userInput = sc.nextLine();

        switch (userInput) {
            case "login":
                System.out.println("Please, enter your username");
                break;
            case "sign_up":
                System.out.println("Welcome!");
                break;
            case "terminate_program":
                System.out.println("Thank you! Good bye!");
                break;
            case "main_menu":
                System.out.println("Main menu");
                break;
            case "about_app":
                System.out.println("This app is created by me with "
                            + "support of \u00AEIT-Bulls.com");
                break;
            default:
                System.out.println("Please, enter one of these values: login, "
```

```
                                                + "sign_up, terminate_program, main_menu,
about_app");

                              break;

              }

        }
}
```